DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 17, 18, 20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamazaki et al. (3,962,355).

The claims are rejected for the reasons of record cited in the last office action.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 19 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

ARGUMENTS

Applicant's arguments filed 8-25-03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that the composition does not teach the additional step of soaking the food product in a sugar solution before frying. However, claims 17 and 18 and 20 are composition claims and the method of making the product is not given weight. The composition of the claim has been disclosed in the last office action.

As above, the '355 patent does not need to teach the elimination of the step of soaking in sugar. In addition, if applicant considers these claims to be product by process claims In re Thorpe applies. The fact that the procedures of the reference are different than that of applicant is not a sufficient reason for allowing the product-by-process claims since the patentability of such claims is based upon the product formed and not the method by which it was produced. See In re Thorpe 227 USPQ 964. The burden is upon applicant to submit objective evidence to support their position as to the product-by-process claims. See Ex parte Jungfer 18 USPQ 2D 1796.

Applicant argues that claims 17-20 are formed by a particular method. As above the process of forming or making the composition is not given weight in a composition claim. The addition of the sugar solution, or sugars inherent in the vegetables, can be caramelized at high heats. Nothing has been shown that this is not the case.

Applicant argues as to the resultant food product that no frying is found in the method. However, when one is considering only the composition of the food product, oil is a sautéing medium as in claim 13 and the sugars whether added or not would have been caramelized under frying conditions, as above. Also, the moisture content of the product has been shown.

The limitation as to sautéing is not given weight in a composition, because that is a process limitation. Arguments as to the amount of fat or oil are not given weight, because no amounts of oil are found in the claims in order to distinguish the claims from the reference.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
